NOTARY PUBLICS—The office of the secretary of state yesterday issued notarial commissions to the following: Agnes Mae Lera of Oatman; G. E. Conger, of Christmas; Dorothy J. Taher and N. H. Wheeler of Phoenix.

MINE MAN HERE—Sam Smith, manager of the Rosemoor Mining company of Webster, Pinal county, was in this city yesterday attending to some business matters in the interest of the company.

INVESTMENT PERMIT—The corporation commission yesterday issued an investment permit to the Gold Star Mining company of Oatman. The company is headed by C. H. Moses and is capitalized at one million dollars.

GOVERNOR'S SECRETARY ILL—Governor L. G. Bennett, of Georgia, was unable to appear at the office yesterday on account of a bad attack of the grip, and in consequence, a large part of the governor's morning mail, containing perhaps five or six hundred letters, remained unopened and unanswered at the close of the day's work.

LIQUOR CASE TO SUPREME COURT—William Stansbury of Co-chise county was recently convicted in the superior court of that county on a charge of bootlegging and sentenced to serve ten days in jail and pay a fine of $25. Yesterday his attorneys filed the case in the supreme court and asked that the judgment of the lower court be reversed.

"ANOTHER CARLOT STUNT"—Some time ago the Republican printed an account of the record made by the Walter Hill company in being the first to ship out or to receive a carload of various products. The carload list is a long one and includes strawberries, pineapples, oranges, grapes, raisins, turkeys, etc. The latest addition to the list is tangerines, a carload of the delicious citrus fruit having been shipped yesterday by the Hill concern to Los Angeles. This was the product of the Ward grove whose entire 1915 crop was sold to Hill some months ago.

MRS. PHILLIPS LEAVES—Mrs. Everett N. Phillips, for several years secretary of the Young Woman's Christian Association in this city, left last evening for Los Angeles, where she will join her husband, who is pastor of a church near Los Angeles. As a light token of esteem, friends of Mrs. Phillips last evening tendered her a farewell dinner at the American Kitchen and then accompanied her to the train. Mrs. Phillips started the local Association and helped it grow from cramped quarters on North Second avenue to its present ample and comfortable location at Second and Monroe streets. Her good work here will live long in the memory of the citizens of Phoenix.

DAVID STARR JORDAN DELAYS PEACE TRIP TO LECTURE HERE

Noted Advocate of Peace to Express His Unbiased Views on Hi-Y Lecture Platform Monday; Stanford Alumni Plans

David Starr Jordan, the distinguished peace advocate, will reach Phoenix next morning morning from Houston. Although he has the eleventh person to join the peace expedition, promoted by Henry Ford, which is scheduled to sail December 4 on the ship Oscar, he has declined to sail with the party until he finishes out his lecture engagement in Phoenix. His last two engagements are Phoenix and Tempe. From here he goes directly to Palo Alto and then to New York City. It is likely the party will not sail until a week later. The local committee received word yesterday morning by telegram that he was in a great hurry to get home, but would first fulfill his date here next Monday evening on the Hi-Y lecture course.

Next to W. J. Bryan and Henry Ford, David Starr Jordan is receiving more publicity through the press in America and Europe than any other peace advocate. Mr. Jordan's lecture will be on the "Last Cost of War." He is one of the most fearless, unbiased and keenest students of economic and social questions, and will express his views very frankly to the Phoenix audience Monday evening.

The Leland Stanford alumni of this city are making big plans to give him a reception and banquet at the Arizona club Monday evening at 6 o'clock.

The local lecture course committee just received a telegram that he wished to come next Saturday night instead of Monday, because Tempe could not arrange him on Saturday he will probably spend Monday in Phoenix and lecture Tuesday at Tempe Normal.

Republicans to accept it as non-partisan. After choosing the candidate for speaker, the republicans named Representative Green of Massachusetts chairman, and Representative McLaughlin, Michigan, clerk of the caucus and nominated the following for officers:

The caucus which was held in the house chamber and was open to the public, was preceded this afternoon by an informal conference at which the organization slate was agreed upon for submission to the caucus.

FEAR TULSA MAN

They were unharmed, nor did they encounter any Villa soldiers on their way here. The whereabouts of General Francisco Villa have become more puzzling than ever to General Alvaro Obregon, the Carranza commander, who stated that what appeared to have been the most reliable report yet received by him on the subject declared that Villa with about 2,000 of his followers, is in the mountainous region near Querobabi east of Hermosillo.

The report received by General Obregon said that Villa was making preparations to move, but in what direction was not known. Uncertainty concerning Villa's whereabouts was said tonight to have been responsible for the hesitation of officials of the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company in giving the necessary orders for the resumption of operations at Cananea.

The second contingent of Carranza troops from Nogales was due to arrive here at 11:30 o'clock tonight. It was said that there were about 1200 soldiers on the train. Two more trains were scheduled to arrive tomorrow, completing the movement of the Carranza troops from Nogales. Sonora to Agua Prieta.

DAUGHTERS OF CALEDONIA—The Daughters of the Caledonia society will hold a meeting at the home of Charles R. Osborn, at 224 Wilson avenue, this afternoon at two o'clock, at which time all members are requested to be present.

CREIGHTON EPWORTH LEAGUE—Members of the Epworth League of the Creighton M. E. church, are invited to be present at the school house at 7 o'clock this evening when a banquet and entertainment is scheduled.

SULLIVAN'S VISIT—Jere L. Sullivan, wife and daughter, of Cincinnati, were in the city Wednesday, the guests of the local committee of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees Alliance, of which Mr. Sullivan is secretary-treasurer. With E. J. Warren and Dan McIntock of the local committee, the visitors motored about the valley. Wednesday evening, they were entertained at a dinner party at Cummins restaurant.

WAY TO WATER ALFALFA ROOTS

The ranch of Charles Moore, situated seven and one-half miles west of this city on the Yuma road, will today be the scene of another demonstration of sub-soiling, the tractor outfit being the same one which was used in the (Glenade) demonstration Tuesday.

The field upon which the demonstration is to be held, has reached the condition of what is known as "pud-dled," or in other words the land has been tamped with cattle and the animal is tramped down the earth until it becomes exceedingly hard, and impervious to water. Crops cannot be raised on it successfully until the sub-soiling has been brought into play.

At the time of the demonstration Manager Ben Moses of the Yuma Tractor Co. will be present to explain the workings of the machinery, and the material and time will be charged against the work. The demonstration is being held by Farm Advisor Armstrong.

It is the plan at present to hold another meeting in this same field next summer to observe the effect on the sub-soiled land compared with the effect on the adjacent soil which will not be treated to the process.

WORK OF BURGLARS FOILED BY POLICEMAN

An attempt to rob the New Meat Market, on East Washington street, was frustrated early this morning by Night Merchant Policemen Gaskin and Bradley.

The two officers were passing the meat market at one o'clock and heard someone talking about inside the building. Suspecting that a burglar or burglars were at work, one of the policemen went to the police station, which is only half a block distant, to get the other officer remaining guard at the meat market.

The man or men inside evidently took fright for when the police arrived, no one could be found about the premises. It was discovered that an entrance had been effected via a transom over one of the back doors. A search was made of the surrounding yards and out buildings, but no trace of the intruder could be found.

A hasty examination of the market did not reveal anything missing, and it is probable that the thieves were scared off before they had accomplished this purpose.

MID-WINTER BAZAAR—The Women's Benefit association of the Macabees will hold a mid-winter bazaar at 25 East Washington all day tomorrow. Articles of virtue will be on hand for the needy and children.

A BREACH OF PROMISE—A quasi criminal action for damages so quasi criminal that they kept the defendant in jail part of the time, was tried last evening at the M. E. church. This affair had been kept pretty quiet. But the facts brought at the trial were substantially as follows: Miss L. Beatrice Shirley, a handsome young milliner who was engaged or as she said, only partially engaged to Perry Payne, on her return from Europe met a double dyed villain, yielded to his suit and promised to become his wife. Ward was a wealthy hotel owner of Palm Beach, Fla. Subsequently Ward met and married Miss Carder but would not let her to render himself immune against a damage suit, he put his property out of his name. He had a bad case. Though he denied all the essential allegations of the plaintiff, supported by the testimony of her traveling companion Miss Steele, he had in a moment of foolishness written Miss Shirley a lot of letters, most of which she had destroyed in order to evade excess baggage charges. But she retained three of a most damaging and convincing character. At the hour of solace to press, the trial of the case had not been concluded but any blind man could see how it was going under the skillful direction of F. Gardner, judge.

A PROPOSITION FROM SID HENRY

He Would Return and Settle Up His Affairs, if Promised Immunity

Sid Henry, alias Henry S. Green, has been heard from again, this time from Winnipeg, but that does not signify that Mr. Henry is conspicuously present there or that his name appears in heavy black type with his address, on the city register. The letter is in reply to one from his creditors, sent through a son of Henry, an attorney at San Jose, Cal.

The letter of inquiry was inspired by a statement by Mr. Plunkett, trustee in bankruptcy, that the estate of Henry ought to meet all claims against it if properly handled, and especially if handled by Henry himself under conditions by which none of the money should pass through his hands.

Concluding his letter Henry writes: "You see where I am at present but as I will not be here when this reaches you, there would be no harm if some one should ask where the letter came from."

He enclosed the following proposition, which he desired given publicity:

To Whom It May Concern: I have understood that several of my friends and creditors have made an effort to get all creditors and the presenting attorney to agree in case that I will come back and do what I can to settle the company's affairs and make it pay all its liabilities, full, if possible, and for me to be immune from any criminal prosecution.

If this can be done, I will not only come back and make every effort to make the assets pay all liabilities, but in case anyone should not be paid in full, I will turn over any surplus I can make in the next ten years, to assist in settling same.

S. HENRY.

A GENEROUS GIFT TO DESERVING WOMAN

A few days ago, The Republican printed the sad story of a woman who had been deprived of means of making a livelihood. It was not an appeal for aid for her, but merely a record of a distressing case. It appears to have attracted wide attention for yesterday a check for $50 for the woman was received at this office from Joe Lobit, formerly of Phoenix, who wrote:

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 30.
"Business Manager, Republican, Phoenix:
I noticed an article in your good paper of last Saturday, referring to the sad case of a woman whom I know to be a deserving woman. I am enclosing you herewith a check for $50 which I would be pleased to have you turn over to her and let me make it the nucleus of a subscription for her benefit. Thanking you for your trouble in this matter, I remain
Yours very truly
JOE E. LOBIT,

TRIBUTE WAS PAID TO DEAD TEACHER

The funeral of Miss Maria T. Wilson, the school teacher who died recently at Winkelman, was held yesterday and was attended by a large number of friends. The services were conducted by Rev. W. J. Sims of the Central M. E. church. At the close of a feeling sermon he read the following tribute to her prepared by Judge A. S. Hawkins:

"Having known Miss Maria T. Wilson so long and well, and being a friend to all her family in Arizona, I feel it a privilege and duty to offer this tribute to her memory."

"She was in all things sincere, faithful and true. She loved her people, her country and her God, and following both the teachings and example of Christ, her Master, she went about doing good, for she was one who loved her neighbor as herself. She indeed led the selfless life, caring not for her own comfort, pleasure or convenience, she devoted almost her existence towards helping those less fortunate than herself. Her death is a sad loss to the community, but a great gain to the death. Hope sees a star and hears the rustle of a wing."
